?	متن زیر را بخوانید و به سؤالات داده شده در هر قسمت پاسخ دهید. Many people think that respect should always be given to older people or those with more knowledge. However, respect is not just about age or education. True respect comes from good behavior, kindness, and fairness. Being older does not always mean someone is wise or a good person. Similarly, having a lot of knowledge does not mean someone is necessarily respectful. Some educated people are arrogant, and some older people do not always act properly. Respect should be earned through good actions, not just by age or intelligence. A young person who is kind, honest, and respectful deserves more respect than an older person who is rude and unkind. Also, someone without much education but with wisdom and kindness can be more worthy of respect than an educated person who is proud and disrespectful. So, real respect should be based on behavior and character, not just age or knowledge. True/False 46. Respect should always be given to older people, no matter how they act. a) True b) False 47. According to the passage, some educated people can be arrogant. a) True b) False	۱۵
